WHERLING, Dec. 8th, 1868.

I have visited Dr. Lighthill at the McLure House and obtained his treatment for the cure of Deafness and noises in the ears, with which I have suffered for four years; and can say that I have been greatly benefitted by its use, although I have applied it but twice, and that the treatment is perfectly painless and calculated to produce permander thereficial results.

Well Attested Cure of Catarrh.

DR. A. P. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIR:—Your treatment in the cure of my Catarrh has had the desired effect, and resulted in permanent good to me, although my case has frequently been pronounced incurable, and I had exhausted all other modes of treatment, without the least benefit. My case was so chronic and troublesome, that by giving a few of the symptoms the value of your treatment can be more readily estimated. For years I had been afflicted with a constant cold in the head, obstructing my breathing so as to necessitate me to keep my mouth open during sleep; latterly the discharges became solidified and impacted in my nose to such an extent that it required the greatest exertion to expel them. Sometimes these haraened lumps would get in my throat causing me to hawk and scrape even by the hour to relieve myself. My breath was offensive; my memory became impaired. Dizziness and light headiness made their appearance, and of late symptoms of paralysis stepped in, and when I placed myself under your care one side of my face was badly affected by this dread disease. My general health suffered slike, there was a constant tired, drowsy and debilitated feeling, with no energy to move or act; I felt as tired on rising in the morning as I did on going to my bed, my appetite was capricious and my disposition morose. In that condition I placed myself under your care, and am happy to state that all those disagreeable and dangerous symptoms have entirely left me, and I once more enjoy the benefits of good health.

By giving this publicity you will benefit others similarly affected and oblige me. Yours truly.

James Sommerville.

Rrockville, Jefferson county. Well Attested Cure of Catarrh.

Yours truly, James Sommerville, Brookville, Jefferson county.

I have known Mr. James Sommerville, from Brookville, Jefferson county, for many years, and can testify to his statement as one of truth and veracity.

LETTER FROM CAPT, SILAS F. MILLER, Proprietor of the Burnett House Cincinnati. BURNETT HOUSE, February 9th, 1867.

TOMY FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC:

It affords me great satisfaction to be able to testify to the success of Dr. Lighthill in the treatment of deafness, and express my sense of obligation to him. My hearing has been impaired for a number of years, at times to such an extent as to embarrass me seriously. Dr. Lighthill, under whese care I placed myself, has removed the difficulty completely, and restored me to perfect hearing.

How the Senate Stands .-- Views of the President.

Contrary to the general expectation the Senate came to no vote on the Civil Tenure matter, yesterday, and the dis-position is still unmistakably indicated to debate it as long as there is the slightest chance of saying anything new or of pronouncing a clearly rounded sentence. Nobody believed, when the discussion began in the Senate, that will be promoted by the proposed it would last so long. The various shades of public opinion have undergone a compete change, and it is now impossible to name, outside of Congress, oned the contest.

The vote has been so often postponed that there is some doubt that it will be reached tomorrow, although it is urged that most of those who intended to speak have already recorded their opinions, and that a vote will be taken if insisted upon before the adjournment, even though the session is extended far into the night.

The principal occupation, to-night, of those familiar with the debates, is the classification of the votes, and the friends of repeal and of suspension compare notes and perfect their lists. familiar with the debates, is the investigation. Grant is showing himself to be something of a wag. A day or two ago then there won't be anything there for the Indians to fight."

Johnson's Vetoes.—The New York Times prints a complete list of ex-President Johnson's vetoes. During his term 19 bills were vetoed; there were 6 pocket vetoes, that is they failed through the adjournment of Congress within ten days after they were sent to a different States. The mission to England, it is asserted most positively, will be offered to Mr. Motley. In addition to his own recognized merits for the place, he is strongly endorsed by Mr. Sumner and others. Mr. Francis, of Troy, New York, it is said, will be sent to Belgium, and probably John Jay, of New York, to Austria.

It is employes in the different departments. 224 of these are day laborers, and 586 are in the Treasury. It is stated that many families in Washington have 4 and 6 members in the different departments.

It is certainly with pleasure we witness the independence of judgment which is now exercised by Republican members of Congress. Even proposed in the place, and yet probably I could not make out a case against him. If I knew as much about his doings as he himself does, I think I could. But as it is, if I should say to the Senate I believe he ought to be removed, he and his friends, and he has a good many, would begin directly to show why he ought not to be removed, and I don't know but the case or member of the House that either claimant is unable to take the test oath, him personally but the world against him personally but the sound against him personally but they are not anything in the world against him personally but they are not anything in the world against him all but they are not anything in the world against him personally but they are not anything in the world against him personally discontinued:

The Partie Paris says that President Grant's message and the composition of the Cabinet accord perfectly. Since 1861, the ideas of government centralization have been predominant and now they seem to be accepted as the politi-cal doctrines of the great Republic. The message in substance announces the end of the reign of politicians, as the Capinet does not contain a single really influential man. President Grant remains the sole and veritable director of the American Government. The Tribunc says of the repeal of the tenure-of-office act: "There is no question involved which should antagonize the President and the the Senate and the President, and the Senate is in session and ready and will-ing to act upon any nominations that the President shall see fit to make, and certain to confirm at least 99 in every 100. Until at least one is rejected, we perceive no plausible reason for the re-peal or suspension of the tenure-of-office act."

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Fremium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium, being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holder.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY. In the former the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent (40 per cent) of the par of his policy. In the latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life insurance Company.
